The ICONS in the preceding list indicate the following:

- 1 = Case forming dies not required. Use full-length sizer die in final caliber for forming.
- 2 = The base diameter of this caliber is much larger than the .30-06 or similar cases and therefore cannot be safely used for forming. Norma cases or ammunition in the respective caliber is recommend.
- 3 = Case forming dies not required if full-length sizer die is equipped with a tapered expander ball – beginning April 1983. For dies sold prior to April 1983 order a #9823 expander decapping unit, .35 Whelen, for installation in the sizer die. A #30765 trim die, .35 Whelen, may also be needed.
- 4 = Case forming dies not required if full-length sizer die is equipped with a tapered expander ball-beginning January 1999. For dies sold prior to January 1999, order a #9823 expander decapping unit, .30 taper, for installation in the sizer die.

5 = Due to the length of this case a reamer die and reamer are not furnished. Cases must be turned in a lathe to the correct wall thickness.

6 = The form set for .404 Jeffery Straight Tube (ST) cases requires an additional form die and is reflected in the price.

7 = The form set for .404 Jeffery Straight Tube (ST) cases requires one less form die and is reflected in the price.

8 = Case forming dies not required if full-length sizer die is equipped with a tapered expander ball – beginning January 1999. For dies sold prior to January 1999, order a #9832 expander decapping unit, .30 taper, for installation in the sizer die.

9 = Required only if RCBS Reloading Die Set was manufactured prior to 2000.

10 = European manufactured cases only.

 = This special case form die set is manufactured with the standard 7/8"-14 thread and is designed to be used in a 4 or 5 station progressive presses as well as most single stage presses. The dies are made extra long with the chambering at the bottom so that an extended shell holder is not required. It uses a standard shell plate or shell holder. There are four dies in the set, each forming the shoulder and neck in simple steps to avoid crushing the .45 auto case.
